RECORD WALNUT CROP

QUANTITY NOT SO GREAT, BUT QUALITY FAR SUPERIOR TO OTHER CROPS

Latest and most accurate estimates of the walnut crop in Southern California this season place the yield at 20,000,000 ponuds. This is 2,000,000 pounds less than last year, but the quality of the new crop will be better than ever before.

That walnut growing is one of the very large industries in Southern California is not generally known, even here in the Southland.

The average easterner has the impression that the walnuts he has on his table during the holiday season are all produced in England, for the reason that these nuts are commonly called English walnuts.

Southern California, however, is only surpassed in the tonnage of walnuts produced by one other country in the world, France, and that the walnuts produced in Southern California are superior to the imported foreign varieties is evidenced by the fact that the California nut always brings two to eight cents a pound more in the markets of this country than do the other foreign varieties.

At the present time there are about 44,000 acres of land planted to walnuts in Southern California, or about seventy square miles. Sometimes over 3000 growers are engaged in producing this vast crop, and between 9000 and 10,000 persons are engaged annually in the harvesting of the walnuts.

For many years practically the entire walnut crop of Southern California went into consumption in markets west of the Mississippi river, though as the industry was developed new markets were entered until at the present time the California Walnut Growers' Association is selling the jobbing trade in forty-three states and also is entering several markets in Canada. It might, therefore, be said that the distribution is quite general throughout the entire continent of North America.

As a general rule the production per acre is considerably heavier in the walnut growing sections in Southern California than it is in any of the other districts in the state, and it therefore seems apparent that Southern California will continue for many years to hold its supremacy as the big walnut producing district of North America.

GLENDALE'S QUOIT CLUB

It will be very interesting for some of our readers to know that Glendale boasts of the champion Quoit Club of Southern California. It is composed of about twenty members, made up principally of retired ranchers, with a few business men. They have recently defeated the noted Pasadena Quoit Club, and also the Long Beach club, who until recently held the state records for high scores as well as the greatest number of ringers in one series. But on Thursday, Sept. 10th, all state records were broken by the local club, and will probably stand for some time to come. The four members who pitched the record series were:

Head, 43 points with 18 ringers.

Gould, 43 points with 19 ringers.

Buchanan, 48 points with 19 ringers.

Stuart, 54 points with 19 ringers.

Total, 188 points, 75 ringers.

The greatest number of ringers in any previous series was 72. The club is anxious to meet any quoit club in Southern California for a match game.

NEWSPAPER DAY SHOULD PROVE PROFITABLE

October 1 has been set aside as newspaper day in California. On that date it is expected that every person in the state will, after he has read his favorite paper, mail it to some friend in the East.

Have you ever stopped to think what this means?

It means that if every person does his duty, at least 3,000,000 newspapers will be sent East from the Golden State. Three million messages will go out telling the people of the East of the prosperity and contentment to be found in California. Fully six million people will read these newspapers. They will see that we are a very lively lot out here on the coast.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHERS

The executive board of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the high school will meet tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock with the president, Dr. E. H. Willisford, 231 Orange street. A full attendance is desired as matters of much importance are to be considered.

AT THE CHURCHES

BIG DAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Remarkable interest is being taken not only by members but also by a large number of visitors in the sermons being delivered by the pastor of the First Baptist church. The gospel appeal was truly impressive and the lecture on "Anti-Christ—the Man of Sin," will not be forgotten by those who heard.

Pastor Troy teaches that there will be a concentration of civil and religious power toward the end of the present dispensation. In conclusion he said:

"Summing up all of the facts of scripture, it is possible to paint a realistic picture of anti-Christ. In the midst of a God-defying age, an age sulphurous with breath of hell, the monster anti-Christ will lift his head, having two horns, like a lamb, and with the voice of a dragon. A colossal monument of conceit, an avowed infidel, an unscrupulous politician, a consummate reprobate, a successful deceiver.

"He will project himself between God, the Father, and God, the Son. He will deny the incarnation. He will scoff at the divinity of Christ. He will even presume to dethrone almighty God and in the place of omnipotence set up the image of the devil and force the small and the great, the rich and poor, and the free and the bond, to bow down before the abominable effigy.

"Today the rainbow of grace encircles the earth. What of truth and justice we now enjoy we owe to Christ. He it was who brought to this dark world the light of God. But the time is at hand when the church of Christ, the lamb's bride, will retire within the spiritual tabernacle in heaven. And with the church will go the comforter, the blessed holy ghost. Then will the sky above become as brass and the earth beneath as iron. And between these two metallic walls all hell will rush upon the stage and crown the devil king of kings and lord of lords.

"The gospel of anti-Christ will be proclaimed with flame and sword. Millions upon millions will flock to Jerusalem to do their homage to the abomination of desolation. Above the walls of the ancient city will loom the shining image of the beast. And the image will speak; his voice will thunder over the hills round about Jerusalem and reverberate to the ends of the earth. And as many as shall not worship the image of the beast shall be killed."

"And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to naught by the manifestation of his coming." —II Thes. 2:8. See also Daniel and Revelation.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The attendance at Sunday school was 191, a gain of 16 over last Sunday. An attendance of 250 is expected before many Sundays pass by.

Elder Francis preached on the subject, "The Anointing of Jesus," reading the story from Mark's gospel and drawing many timely lessons therefrom. The woman did what she could to show her love for the dear Master, who had done so much for her, and though the bystanders murmured at the waste of the valuable ointment, which "might have been sold and the money given to the poor," the Master rebuked them, saying they could help the poor at any time, but Him they could not show honor to much longer, and that the woman's loving deed would be remembered as long as the world stands. The hearts of the pastor and people were gladdened by the addition of eleven members, three by confession and eight by letters.

The Junior Endeavorers had a very helpful meeting at 3 p. m., Irene Armstrong leading. The Senior Endeavor service at 6:45 was most inspiring. Elder Francis spoke in the evening on the subject, "A Timely Question." His text was "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." He spoke most kindly and lovingly, while deploring the divisions in the Christian world and the timely question was "Bible-made or man-made creeds." He called attention to the fact that all denominations believe the scriptures and take them for their guide, yet add to this man's ideas. Why not take the Bible only, since from it we draw our inspiration and our rule of life? Many will say at the last day, "Lord, Lord, we have prophesied in thy name and in thy name cast out demons," but I will profess "I know you not. Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity."

The simple word of the Master is enough to live by, so why add to it, thereby confusing the mind? The one name by which the followers of the Master were known at the be-

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

ALLIES CLAIM GERMANS ARE BEING DRIVEN BACK—HEAVY LOSSES

LONDON, Sept. 13.—A Bordeaux dispatch to Lloyd's Weekly News says the line of communication used by the Germans has been cut and they cannot make use of lines east of Argonne forest owing to the rapid advance of the allies on the center and right. They must, therefore, try the line through the Meuse valley and Luxemburg.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—A Central News dispatch from Petrograd says that the German forces in East Prussia have been driven back with great losses near Muishents, but are still bringing up reinforcements. The Germans are making their chief efforts in the region of the Maersee lakes.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—A Havas agency dispatch from Bordeaux gives the following communication signed by Gen. Von Stein and officially issued at Berlin:

"The news is received from headquarters that the army situated east of Paris, which had advanced across the Marne, was attacked by a superior force of the enemy proceeding from Paris, between Meaux and Montmirail.

"The battle lasted two days, resulting in heavy losses on both sides. The French troops advanced and our troops retreated, followed by columns of strong, fresh French troops.

"The situation in the region of the Vosges remains without change. In Eastern Prussia fighting has recommenced."

LONDON, Sept. 13.—A Reuter dispatch from Rome says:

"News from the Austrian frontier describes even in darker colors the situation of the Austrian army, especially since Germany has notified her ally that she is unable to send any more reinforcements into Galicia owing to the graver conditions on the western front.

"It is even asserted that the German contingents, which reached Grodek to help the Austrians may be recalled to Germany, as Germany wishes to center all her efforts against the allies."

GERMANS IN RETREAT

In order that their retreat shall not be turned into a calamity, the German army is said to be making a desperate effort to hold Rheims, the loss of which would mean the cutting off of supplies and ammunition by way of East Belgium and Luxemberg.

It is reported that the entire German army is in retreat with the exception of those troops commanded by the crown prince, which holds the south end of the forest of Argonne.

Reports from Rome and Paris say that Russian victories have overpowered the Austrians in Galicia and 60,000 prisoners have fallen into the hands of the Czar.

LIGHT OF LIFE DIMMED BY DEATH

The short life of the little eleven-day-old baby girl that was born at the California hospital, Los Angeles, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conduit, 644 Lincoln avenue, the second of this month, was dimmed by the shadow of death Sunday, September 13. Mrs. Conduit was brought from the hospital today to a home that is now filled with sorrow and grief.

BILLBOARDS AND BOARDBILLS

So there will be 200 miles of rare roses to greet tourists along Los Angeles highways during 1915. They are to be trained as climbers. No doubt they will run up the billboards while the tourists run up boardbills. There will, quite certainly, be numerous "Bored Bills" as they gaze into "Seco Milk," "Black Cat Hose," "Daugherty's Relishes" and other delicacies outlined in large letters peeping out from behind garlands of roses. Oh, yes, our wonderful civic pride here in Los Angeles county travels far and wide and is known nearly the world over, but said civic pride carries also an unwieldy and hurtful handicap in the ever-present and disgusting billboards that undo all that we may do to beautify suburban territory. The Advocate believes that people out this way ought to rise up and declare, and with such vehemence that none can mistake the meaning, "That no man can be elected supervisor from the first district who will not pledge himself, beforehand, to fight the billboard nuisance."—Alhambra Advocate.

Miss Martha Amborsky, who is visiting in Los Angeles from Grand Rapids, Mich., was entertained Sunday by Mrs. C. M. Scott of 215 South Glendale avenue.

ANNIVERSARY EDITION

INFORMATION CONCERNING THE WRITERS AND CONTENTS OF THIS NUMBER

Very little other than formal announcements and statements have been made public about the Glendale Evening News anniversary edition of the fall of 1914, so the following review of the staff and contents of this souvenir number has been prepared by one intimately acquainted with the work now in progress at the News office.

The size of the edition will be 68 pages, inclusive of cover, the pages being the regular size of the Evening News page. The paper used is best plate finish book, a fine stock book paper, which prints up the fine art work in a most creditable manner.

The contents of this book will be practically everything of interest to the community, including schools, churches, business houses, municipal improvements, organizations, residences, historical reviews, stories pertaining to the progress of Glendale and sketches of public spirited persons of Glendale and vicinity.

In the artistic line, the frontispiece by our local artist, Jacob Fink, is a very suitable covering for such an edition as this, and many exterior and landscape scenes which appear will be the work of B. D. Jackson, a photographer of local repute. The portraitures of Glendale people who will appear in this issue will be the work of the nation wide known artist, Edw. H. Weston of Tropico, whose work needs no introduction to anyone in the United States or Canada. The cuts are all furnished by the Aristo Engraving Company of Los Angeles, who are locally known for their high grade of work.

The staff of writers who are busy preparing the matter for this edition or who have contributed articles, include, besides members of The News force, Prof Moyse of the high school, Supervising Principal Richardson D. White of the city schools, the pastors of the local churches, Miss Cora Hickman of Tropico, W. B. Kirk, G. B. Woodberry, Eugene Brown, Prof. Gilbert Ellis Bailey, F. S. Balthis, Miss Dorothy Gilson, Miss Marie Kirk, J. F. Lilly, Z. L. Hesse and many others.

With such a staff furnishing articles, with the class of art work turned out by such artists, and the usual high grade production of the members from the News print shop, the people of Glendale can easily realize that the number will easily be disposed of at fifteen cents per copy to all non-subscribers of The News and that the many friends and subscribers will order extra numbers to send away to their various friends. Orders for this paper will be accepted with cash only. The final sections are being made up at the present time—three eight-page sections have already been completed at this writing—so it is imperative that all advertising matter, all write-ups of organizations and all pictures be arranged for immediately.

$600,000 IN SALES IN MILFORD (UTAH) VALLEY

The development of Milford valley by the Western Securities company is meeting with marked success. This company has 15,000 acres of the choicest land in the valley, for which they have developed water. A perfect irrigation system has been built and an abundance of water is assured. Since May 1st nearly half of the entire tract has been sold to Southern California farmers, many of them going to start developing their farms immediately.

Among the recent purchasers are J. C. Hinshaw of Los Angeles, who bought eighty acres; J. J. Webster, cashier of the Holtville (Cal.) bank, eighty acres; Robert E. Worthing of Redlands, forty acres; August Lemke of Orange county, eighty acres; Robt. Lemke of Olive, Cal., forty acres; Henry Shroeder of Olive, Cal., eighty acres; R. A. Shadowen, Orange Cal., forty acres, and Carl Conway of Orange county, forty acres. Another large party left for Milford last Saturday morning.

The Milford lands are located in Utah's richest valley. They are served by the main line of the Salt Lake railroad. The commercial and distributing center is Milford, a modern, rapidly-growing city. Authorities predict that within ten years Milford will be the largest city between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.

MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION

The Ministers' Association of Glendale and vicinity will meet at the First Baptist church Tuesday morning, Sept. 15, at 10 o'clock. A number of questions of great importance are to be considered, hence a large attendance of the ministers is desired.

COUNTY BEAUTIFYING

WORK STARTED WITH RUSH—THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN CASH PRIZES

The sub-committee having in charge the work of beautifying Los Angeles county for fair year is first to begin actual operations. It is one of the few of the fifteen committees on beautifying and entertaining in 1915 to get the full appropriation asked from the board of supervisors.

The initial work of this committee is to line 200 miles of county roads with rose bushes. The trellises for this work, 3600 in number, are being installed. It is hoped to finish the work by December, so that in the winter the county roads literally will be strewn with flowers.

Towns throughout the county are urged to get busy on floral displays for next year, as the first judging will be done in January, 1915. The other judging will be done in the following July and December.

Prizes of $1000, $500 and $250 are offered to the municipalities of 5000 population or less for the best displays. Similar prizes are offered for towns of 15,000 or less.

Large cash prizes also are offered for school districts, railroad stations, railroad sections, public grounds, etc.

R. L. Bisby is chairman of this important committee. An appropriation of $75,000 has been made for its work.

"Do it now" is the word sent out. The co-operation of all civic organizations is sought in the work of beautifying the county. The big task has been well begun and every well-wisher of the county is asked to lend aid.

PRECINCT CIRCLE WILL MEET

The W. C. T. U. are planning a series of precinct circle meetings for the purpose of studying the amendments for intelligent voting Nov. 3. The first of these was held last week at Mrs. J. E. Paul's on Orange street. A delightful hour was passed listening to instructions and readings given by Mrs. Eva Craven Wheeler of San Diego, who also delighted a fine audience at the Presbyterian church with readings and an address the same evening. The next meeting of the precinct circle will be at the home of Mrs. Cora Pettit, 909 West Seventh street, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 16.

All ladies are invited. This is important work in which all women should be interested.

HUNTERS RETURN WITH SMALL GAME

Mr. William R. Petty of 1443 Vine street, who with Mr. F. R. Herman and Mr. James Thomas of Los Angeles have been hunting and fishing at Oceanside and vicinity, returned to his home loaded with rabbits and interesting reports of a successful trip in every way. Although no big game was bagged, one member of the party succeeded in slaying a badger, and in such a manner that the pelt was not harmed in the least.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S AUXILIARY

The Young People's Auxiliary of the Dry Federation will hold the first of a series of meetings in the auditorium of the Glendale Union high school Friday evening, Sept. 18, for the purpose of instructing voters on the California dry amendment.

Excellent speakers, good music and other attractive features, both entertaining and instructive, will be a notable feature of these meetings.

Watch for the program, which will appear later. Come, everyone, and bring your friends. A good attendance is much desired.—Committee.

FREE TO SUBSCRIBERS

The anniversary number of the Glendale Evening News, which will be ready for distribution in two or there weeks, will be given free to every paid-in-advance subscriber of the Glendale Evening News or the Tri-City Progress, providing such subscription is for at least a period of three months for the Evening News and one year for the Tri-City Progress. Otherwise the anniversary number will be sold for 15 cents per copy, cash. No orders will be booked unless accompanied by the cash, for the reason that we do not want a multitude of small accounts that will require a man to spend several weeks' time in which to make the collections.

Experience has taught us that while some people are exceedingly prompt, others are not, and to be fair to all, we will insist upon receiving cash with the order.

Many orders have already been taken for the special number and we will be pleased to book your order on the conditions outlined above.

FIRST P. T. A. MEETING

BROADWAY ASSOCIATION IS TO HOLD FIRST MEETING OF YEAR THURSDAY

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Broadway school will hold their first meeting of the new year at 3:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon of this week, and as usual the meeting will be held at the school.

It is desired that all parents be present, whether already members or not, as this, the first meeting, will be an especially interesting one.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Parent-Teacher Federation, will be the principal speaker of the afternoon and refreshments will be served by members of the board, who are as follows: Mrs. A. C. Anderson, president; Mrs. W. A. Burns, vice-president; Mrs. Norton, recording secretary; Mrs. W. S. Carmichael, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. G. Lemon, treasurer; Mrs. W. L. Truitt, ways and means; Mrs. P. A. C. Moore, chairman of membership, and Mrs. R. W. Meeker, chairman of emergency committee.

Now this emergency committee is particularly devoted to philanthropic work, care for and administering to the poor and needy, but doing all this secretly. If any one in Glendale who has clothing, household furnishings, etc., that has been discarded, will kindly notify Mrs. R. W. Meeker, 300 East Colorado boulevard, said articles will be called for and distributed to a very good advantage.

X. V. I. CLUB

The Misses Lillian and Birdie Shropshire of 445 Everett street were at home informally Saturday afternoon to members of the X. V. I. club, who had gathered together for the usual two hours of needlework and social chatter.

About 4:30 o'clock the hostesses led their guests into the dining-room where two tables, beautifully embellished in dutchess roses, held covers for five guests and a hostess at each.

Those present to enjoy this merry event were Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mrs. C. W. McFadden, Mrs. Joe McFadden, Miss Freda Borthick, Miss Ruby Borthick, Miss Carrie Cornwell, Miss Mae Cornwell, Miss Cora Ward, Miss Lois Curtis, Miss Maxwell and the Misses Lillian and Birdie Shropshire.

ENTERTAINS NEVADA FRIEND

Miss Ida G. A. Steinmeyer of 139 South Louise street entertained at her home Saturday evening in honor of her friend, Mrs. Chas. Forsberg of Fallon, Nevada, who is visiting with her mother in Los Angeles. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing. Those present were: Mrs. C. E. Forsberg, Mrs. Fralick and daughter Marion, Ida Weber, Gertrude Tolker, Chas. Weber, F. Price, O. Jones, B. Jones and L. Heidt of Los Angeles and Cecelia Wilson, Daisy Niba, Paul H. Steinmeyer and Bert Sands of Glendale.

"LES MISERABLES" IS ENJOYED

PASADENA TEACHERS SHOULD WORRY

The public school teachers of Pasadena are worried, and they have cause to be. The funds being exhausted, the teachers were not paid their June salaries and the board of education called a special election to vote on an issue of $12,000 bonds to pay them. The election was held Friday and the proposition lacked forty-one votes of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Apathy of the citizens who would not take the trouble to go to the polls is given as cause of defeat of the bonds, as only a total of 1460 votes were cast.

There is no way of paying the salaries except by bond issue, and it is believed that another election will be called as soon as the required time has elapsed.

IS EXEMPT FROM SERVICE

The military command to return to his native country and join the army at the front was received recently by George A. De Rycke, a Belgian employed as pipe fitter with the Western Fuel, Gas and Power company, Redondo Beach.

Fortunately De Rycke is exempt from reservist service, as he has taken out his first papers to become a citizen of the United States.

PRESIDENT NOT A PARTY CAMPAIGNER

President Wilson makes a new claim to public admiration, we believe in declining to go on the stump in the campaign of the next two months. He will not be awarded thanks by the party committees, whose keenness to political values dictates a pressing invitation. Even the public, with its fondness for at least seeing high personages, will sense a regret, but probably thinking all the better of the president at the same moment. Instances in which the president of the United States has been brought into campaigning to the gain of his party and without compromise of his office, are exceptional. Recent political history is not without its instruction, which it may need a lapse of time to make effective. The necessities of the campaign of 1912, as they were then gauged, compelled the presence of President Taft on the stump, where he did not conceal his distaste for pleading his own cause, and the difficulty of reconciling the dignity of the office with the requirements of a necessarily somewhat personal contention has perhaps never been more thoroughly shown.

Until very recent campaigns, the entrance of the holder of the high office into an encounter, either for his re-election or to justify himself midway the administration, was cautious and restrained. Perhaps the president candidates remembered Lincoln, attentive to his duties, deeply moved as to the possibility of the country failing him, desirous in the highest degree of popular support and opportunity to complete his task, silent in the congressional campaign of 1862 and hardly more formally expressing himself in the campaign for his own re-election in 1864. It seems to us another of the high examples of his conduct.

A fact that political managers might note with some relief to their disappointment over not having the president at their service and whisked around the country on campaign tours is that the American people like to think of their president as non-partisan. They may know most thoroughly that he is not, and that he is chief custodian of his party's fortunes, but they overlay the fact with respect for the station. If the course of the administration is not sufficiently known to the voters to give them all the needed facts for their verdict, no pleading of the president in his own behalf can reach them. There is a power little recognized in politics, where also it probably has its highest potency. It is the power of silence.

A cartoon in an eastern paper represents the Sultan of Turkey reading a newspaper with large headlines concerning atrocities and cruelties at various towns in the European war zone and exclaiming: "By Allah! I may have to interfere in the name of our humanity!"

THE NEW "AMERICA"

(Revised for those American tourists marooned on the other side of the pond.) By L. F. Littlepage, Minneapolis, Minn.

My country, I love thee,
Oh, how I long to see
Thy shores once more.
But now, alas, alack,
I'm here and can't get back,
Which puts me on the rack,
And makes me sore.

My native country thee,
Best place on earth to be,
You're home sweet home.
If I get back again,
You bet there I'll remain,
In your beloved domain,
No more to roam.

Let foreign lands allure
The tourists who endure
That sort of play.
But when they're raising—well
What Sherman had to tell,
It's time to say farewell,
And get away.

My dear Old Uncle Sam,
Sure "skeered" that's what I am
I must confess.
Please send a boat p. quick,
For I can't swim a lick;
I'm awfully homesick,
And in distress.

My blessed country thee,
You've plenty there to see;
No more I'll go
To foreign lands to tour
There's scenes at home, I'm sure,
And troubles to endure
With Mexico.

CRAFTY CANDIDATE

A political office in a small town was vacant. The office paid $250 a year and there was keen competition for it. One of the candidates, Ezekial Hicks, was a shrewd old fellow, even though a reactionary, and a neat campaign fund was turned over to him to help put a progressive rival out of the running, but to the astonishment of all, he was defeated.

"I can't account for it," said one of the leaders of Hicks' party, gloomily. "With that money we should have won. How did you lay it, Ezekial?"

"Well," said Ezekial slowly pulling his whiskers, "yer see that office only pays $250 a year salary, an' I didn't see no sense in paying $900 out to get the office, so I bought a little piece of ground instead."—Los Angeles Tribune.

—they bought over 1000 acres of Milford Valley lands on sight—this excursion party of practical Southern California ranchers and investors!

When practical, successful ranchers like these buy over 1000 acres of farm land on sight, you can depend on it they've based their judgment on mighty substantial evidence. These men saw Milford Valley lands—they didn't ask for promises and predictions.

They saw field after field of alfalfa that will net $70 or more an acre—three cuttings. They saw prize-winning potatoes, 400 to 500 bushels per acre, average yield—luxuriant stands of oats and wheat—fine streches of green garden—trees heavy to breaking with luscious pears, apples, peaches. They investigated the great gravity irrigation system that waters the Milford Valley lands—they saw an abundance of water for all time to come and were astonished at the exceptionally low cost of water maintenance (which should not exceed 25 or 30 cents per acre per year). In a word, they found soil, water, climate, markets, railroad facilities, social and educational advantages even better than we had promised.

Past experience in judging farm land values taught them that the value of the land, now selling at $30, would be $200 an acre and up when under cultivation. Special excursions at low homeseekers' rates, Wednesdays and Saturdays from Los Angeles.

YOUR CHILD'S MUSIC LESSONS

Now is just the time for parents to consider their children's musical education. Little Marian or Louise or George has had a good three months' rest; they have grown tanned and rosy and full of energy. You have, perhaps, always planned to have them study music, but have put it off first for one reason and then another. Meantime the precious years of childhood are flying past.

Perhaps you think George or Louise is not musical. Are you sure your children have been in a musical atmosphere or that their ability has been properly tested? Sometimes a child cannot sing on account of imperfect control of the vocal chords and a short course of ear training will reveal the fact that he or she may easily be developed into a musician.

The study of music opens up a new world of beauty to our children and awakens in them a keen appreciation of the kindred arts of painting, poetry and literature.

You may not wish your son to study music as you imagine it might interfere with his business career. Do you ever stop and think how many of our business men break down physically on account of the high tension of our modern life. If these men, as boys, had developed their musical tendencies they would have found in music a rest and relaxation from the strain of business that might have averted physical disaster.

Your daughter may possess a beautiful voice. She will find a knowledge of the piano will not only enable her to play her own accompaniments, but she will find the cultivation of her musical taste acquired in her piano lessons of the greatest benefit in her vocal study.

We should try to make musicians of our children, not consider music study as a mere accomplishment. Teach them to revere the names of Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin and all the gifted beings who have left such rich musical legacies to mankind.

Let your children understand that musical talent can only be developed by patient, willing effort. Resolve to help them by your kind encouragement and by assuming responsibility for their regular and conscientious practice. Encourage the teacher's efforts to lay a secure foundation and form correct habits from the start. Remember that hurrying with a beginner is often hurrying backward.

You will be amply repaid not only in the pleasure and pride you will take in your own children's performance, but in your realization that you have in adding to the music of the world, added to its happiness.

THE HEIGHT OF SUSPICION

Blackinston is a lawyer of the old school and has a well deserved reputation for good heartedness that keeps him poor. He was recently imposed upon by the town's most successful miser, one Scruggins, who placed troublesome legal work in his hands. As the time came for settlement, Scruggins hemmed and hawed and manifested all the symptoms of being in acute pain over having to pay a just debt.

The lawyer's sunny good nature again asserted itself.

"I won't charge you anything for my services," he said.

Scruggins peered sharply through his bushy eyebrows.

"Well, I'd like to have a receipt, anyhow," he snarled.—Lippincott's.

MAYBE THEY ARE LEARNING

Editor Greene of the Inglewood News takes a long breath and writes: "One thing we are thankful for this week is that our mail box is not filled with long-winded articles describing the merits of the various candidates for office which they offer to us "free of charge" to help fill our columns. The kindness of some of the candidates in this regard during the campaign was almost too much for our tender nature."

Maybe the candidates are realizing they are not getting results by patronizing the "publicity" agencies and are making plans to deal direct with the publishers. It will be economy for them to cut out the "middleman."

Every war in this intelligent area of human development argues strongly for universal peace.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. C. H. Cunningham of 1013 Fairview avenue spent Saturday in Pasadena, where he went in the interests of the lumber company he represents in Southern California.

Mr. George Marsh of 1645 Ruth street reported at the S. P. depot, Los Angeles, where he is one of the several train dispatchers, Sunday, after enjoying a very pleasant fifteen days' vacation, most of which time was spent hunting in the near-by mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kranz and little daughter, Miss Barbara, of N. Brand boulevard, are enjoying an extended stay in their attractive new bungalow home at Hermosa Beach.

Mrs. John Rockhold of 1425 Burchett street is confined to her bed because of serious illness. Dr. Archer is in attendance.

Mrs. Oliver E. Wright and daughter, Miss J. Ruth Wright, of 1649 Ruth street, were guests of Mr. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wright of Florence Sunday.

Mrs. John Murphy of 1648 Ruth street was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. N. H. Hamlin of Cudahy City over Sunday.

Mr. J. W. West of 1333 Valley View road has added to his attractive home two large screened-in porches, making a decided improvement to his property.

Mr. H. L. Tucker and family, who for the past three years have occupied ranch property at 1641 Stocker street, have moved to Los Angeles, the ranch having been sold to a Los Angeles firm, and preparations are now being made for subdivision.

Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue and Mrs. L. D. Williams of Burchett street were Los Angeles visitors last Thursday and enjoyed witnessing the photo play from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" at Clune's auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. George Alston of the Kenwood apartments entertained as their guests at a prettily appointed family dinner in honor of Mr. Alston's birthday. Covers were laid for six and a four-course dinner was served by the gracious hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Parker of 410 North Louise street are rejoicing over the arrival of a beautiful baby girl who came to them last Monday evening at Thornycroft hospital. We are very glad to announce that the mother and little one are doing exceddingly well. This is the second child that has come to bless this happy home. A fine boy three years old is waiting patiently for little sister to play with him.

PRESERVE HARMONY

By State Supt. of Schools

The state superintendent of public instruction, Edward Hyatt, has issued an open letter to instructors, trustees of schools and all other residents of the state interested in the welfare of the educational institutions, urging that all possible efforts be encouraged and put forth in connection with school work that the utmost harmony may prevail in the state among foreign-born residents and their children, especially among pupils of the schools of the state. The state officer says in his open communication:

"The president of the United States has requested the people of this country to refrain from showing partiality during the progress of the European war. It is a patriotic duty for all of us to do all that we can in furthering and supporting this policy of our chief executive. Each of the warring nations has sons and daughters in this country. They and their children are in our workshops, on our farms, within our schools. They are a part of us. Discord and hard feeling among the elements of our people is dangerous at this time. The most enlightened and powerful nations have forgotten their civilizations and are at each other's throats in a death clutch. There is an opportunity for our country to conserve the peace and safety of the world at this junction by simply preserving its own equilibrium.

"It is eminently fitting that the schools should do their share in promoting harmony and in avoiding causes of conflict. A little dispute leads we know not where. It is proper then to call upon the school people of California to be wise and far seeing in avoiding possible race prejudices and race conflicts brought from over the sea. Postpone discussions, debates and contests touching the causes or merits of the war until the war has closed, until man recovers his senses. Take special pains to smooth away disputes among the young people and try to prevent the children of one race from pitting themselves against those of another. Teach the doctrine that we are all Americans here, with one country, one flag.

"Now is our moment to put forward the idea of patriotism, civic patriotism, as opposed to the patriotism of war. Patriotism does not necessarily move to the music of the fife and drum. Living for one's country is better than dying for it—and harder. There are other heroes than those at the cannon's mouth. It is a splendid contrast, this nation, made up of individuals from each of the warring worlds, yet moving steadily ahead, helping, building up, not destroying, not tearing down the things that humanity has accomplished in the long march of the centuries.

"Is it not a worthy task to keep the feet of a hundred million people in the paths of honest industry and away from the gory fields of war?"

PIANO INSTRUCTION

Mrs. Vivian R. Webb, teacher of piano, has opened a studio at her home, 209 North Maryland, where she will be pleased to receive pupils, both for private lessons and classes. Those wishing their children to enter classes are advised to enroll them as soon as possible, as it is difficult to coach a pupil for a certain class when the others are several weeks in advance. The ideal arrangement for rapid progress is to have one private lesson and one class lesson each week.

Mrs. Webb has had twelve years' experiencec as a teacher of piano. Recently she spent some time in Vienna studying the Leschetizky method. She holds a certificate from the A. K. Virgil Piano School of New York and is a post-graduate of the Des Moines Musical College.

For further information as to terms, classes, etc., call at Mrs. Webb's studio, or phone Glendale 922J.

WHAT IS ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS WORK

For the benefit of the numerous organizations who helped to sell nearly 45,000,000 Red Cross seals last year and for the general public, the American Red Cross and the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis have framed a definition of anti-tuberculosis work showing how the proceeds from these holiday stickers are to be used. The definition limits the expenditure of money only for the year ending April 30, 1915.

The definition was framed at a recent meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and states that the term "antituberculosis work," as it relates to the expenditure of Red Cross seal money, shall include the following activities:

1. The construction of hospitals or sanatoria for the care of the tuberculous.

2. The maintenance of the tuberculous.

3. The provision of day or night camps for the tuberculous; the provision and maintenance of dispensaries, visiting nurses, open-air schools, fresh-air classes, or preventoria for the care or treatment of tuberculous cases or for the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis.

4. The maintenance of educational or legislative activities which have for their object the prevention of infection from tuberculosis.

Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the national association, says in commenting on this definition: "We hope by this means to prevent the spending, particularly of small sums of money, in useless activities, and to direct the efforts of all anti-tuberculosis agencies along the lines which will produce most results for the money invested. We are in thorough sympathy and cooperation with every movement for better community or individual health, but if this Red Cross seal money is to be spent, as we advertise, only for tuberculosis work, we wish to see that it is expended to the best advantage."
